HUDSON and ESSEX outsell all rivals. It is not merely because the Coach exclusively gives "Closed Car Comfort at Open Car Cost." It is because both HUDSON and ESSEX offer the most astounding value in genuine car performance and RELIABILITY. It is because they have vibrationless motors—exciting to them because they are built on the Super-Six principle. More than 250,000 owners know their enduring value. That is why they outsell all rivals—and why the Coach is the largest selling 6-cylinder closed car in the world. An examination will convince you of quality not obtainable elsewhere with in hundreds of dollars of these prices. In quality HUDSON and ESSEX are alike.

HOIHOW'S FALL.

HOW GENERAL TANG FLED.

WUCHOW PARLEY.

An official in the Kuomintang who passed through Hongkong yesterday on his return to Canton from Pakhoi informed a Telegraph representative that the capture of Hoihow by the Kuomintang forces took place last Friday as a result of a flank attack which completely took Tang Poon-yun's troops by surprise. Tang's forces were routed, the remnants fleeing past Kluengchow and going inland.

The possibility of defeat had been provided for by the defender and when General Tang fled from the town he transferred in the rough garb of a fisherman to a foreign steamer, alleged to be a Japanese, which was standing by. It is said that a colossal price, amounting to $200,000, was paid as passage money by Tang and his subordinate, the vessel having been diverted from her usual route and specially chartered for the purpose of enabling the General to make his escape from Hainan.

In this campaign, which has resulted in the capture of Hainan Island, some 20,000 troops were used by the Kuomintang Government. They were led by General Chen Kwai-fat, a Lieutenant of Li Chi-shun.

For the first time since its inception, the present regime is enjoying a respite from its military labours, but this promises to be short-lived, for scarcely has the military position in Hainan been made secure than Mr. Wang Ching-wai, the Chairman of the Central Executive Committee of the Government, General Sung Chi-wan and General Tan Yen-kui have hastened with all speed, during the week-end, to Wuchow where they are to confer with Generals Wong Siu-hung and Li Chung-yan on the military position in Yunnan, and Kwangsi, with the object of bringing these provinces under the control of Canton.

THE WUCHOW CONFERENCE.

In connection with the above, a report from Wuchow says that in view of the coming visit of Mr. Wang Ching-wai and General Chang Kai-shek, the Tupan (Li Chung-yan) had issued a proclamation to the effect that, on the day of the arrival of Mr. Wang and General Chang, all Government offices and public institutions, as well as the principal streets, should be suitably decorated with flags, bunting, etc., and every house should display the flag of the Government. Further orders have been given to the Garrison Commandant and the Police Department to take extra precautionary measures.

It is reported from Canton that Mr. Wang Ching-wai, accompanied by General Tan Yen-kui, and Messrs. T. V. Sung and Kum Wai-tong departed by special train on the Samsui Railway on the 25th instant and at Samshui they will be conveyed to Wuchow by gunboat. It is said that the party will make a stay of four days when it is expected that all matters in connection with the conferences will be definitely decided. It is also stated that the selection of Mr. Kum Wai-tong as a member of the delegation is made because Mr. Kum is a Kwangsi man, having been born at Wuchow, and that his presence at the conference would give greater weight to the Canton Government. There are two reports concerning General Chang Kai-shek. One is that, owing to the urgency of military affairs, he will not be able to leave Canton, while another says that he will proceed to Wuchow direct by gunboat.

Later news is to the effect that Mr. Wang Ching-wai and party have sent a wireless message to Canton stating that they arrived at Wuchow on the evening of the 26th instant.

SENSATIONAL AFFAIR IN CITY.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE AFTER CHOPPER ATTACK.

TWO MEN INJURED.

Connaught Road Central, during one of its busiest hours this morning, was the scene of what might yet develop into a double tragedy.

Shortly after half past nine a Chinese was seen to jump into the road from the second floor verandah of the Hoo Cheong Wo shop, which is close by the Jubilee Street side of the new Fire Station building, and he sustained severe injuries, including, it is stated, a fractured skull.

Subsequent investigations revealed that another foki was lying inside the shop with injuries to the head. It appeared that the two men had quarrelled and that in the course of the struggle which ensued, the man who later attempted suicide, secured a chopper and attacked his companion with it. The man fell to the ground with several cuts about the head and arms, after which the other appears to have reflected as to the result of his action, taken fright, run upstairs and jumped into the street below in an attempt to commit suicide.

The cause of the quarrel is at present unknown.

The ambulance was immediately sent for and both men were taken to the Government Civil Hospital where it is understood both are in a serious condition.

The Hoo Cheong Wo firm are well-known ship-chandlers and employ many foki.

THE "TAMING."

LEAVES HOIHOW TO-NIGHT.

Whatever the actual cause of the delay suffered by the s.s. Taming at Hoihow, it is now clear that the difficulties have been overcome, for Messrs. Butterfield and Swire have received a wireless message from a vessel at Hoihow to the effect that the Taming will be leaving that port at 6 o'clock this evening. No reason for the delay in departure is given in the message.

There now appear some grounds for doubting whether, as was first stated, "the Taming was forcibly detained." The passenger who, with others, transferred from the Taming to the Hanoi, stated in his telegram to Hongkong that this transference became necessary owing to the "immobilisation" of the Taming. In view of the new situation at Hoihow, the recipient of the message (who supplied us with the information) construed this to mean that the vessel was detained by the authorities, but it is possible that another, and less serious, construction can be placed on the message.

BOAT PIRATED.

HELD UP IN LYCEMUN PASS.

On her return to Hongkong, after taking on board a cargo of livestock at Shanmei, the small fishing boat registered in the Harbour Office as 3944V fell into the hands of pirates in Lyceemun Pass.

According to a report to the police it appears that last night, at about 10 o'clock, this fishing boat was boarded in Lyceemun Pass by a gang of pirates who rowed out to meet her in a small boat. They took charge of the junk for a time, and only released it after taking ashore the whole cargo of livestock, numbering 27 pigs.

The value of the animals is reckoned at $400.

"STAR" FERRY.

WARNING RE JUMPING ON BOATS.

TO-DAY'S MEETING.

That the Company is contemplating prosecution if ferry users fail to observe the bye-law in respect of "jumping" the ferry, was mentioned by the Chairman at this morning's annual meeting of the Star Ferry Co. A scheme for improving the lee House Street ferry was also referred to.

Mr. D. G. M. Bernard occupied the chair and there were also present: Sir Paul Chater, the Hon. Mr. A. O. Lang (directors), Mr. F. H. Crapnell (acting secretary), Messrs. W. S. Bailey, J. T. Bagram, L. S. Greenhill, W. J. Carroll, J. P. Braga, H. R. Sturt, O. F. Ribeiro, R. V. Harris, A. H. M. da Silva, and E. Sadleir (shareholders).

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH.

The Secretary have read the notice convening the meeting.

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen.—The report and statement of accounts, together with the auditor's report, have been in your hands for some days, and with your permission, I will follow the usual procedure and take them as read.

On the 1st January, 1926, the two new launches Golden Star and Meridian Star were brought into service; two further boats, the Solar Star and Night Star are nearing completion and are expected to be ready early in April next. I hope, when these are all in operation, it will make for the greater comfort and convenience of the public. It is proposed to sell the two oldest vessels as they will no longer be required for the maintenance of our service. Your directors have also had under consideration for some time alterations and improvements to the lee House Street Pier. There is only passage-way at the present time to serve for both in-coming and out-going first-class passengers and it is frequently very congested. Plans showing the proposed alterations have been submitted to the Committee of the Kowloon Residents' Association for their consideration, and when a scheme has been decided upon, it will be proceeded with as soon as possible.

When the ferry crews went on strike at the end of June, I regret to say that the service was disorganized and a good deal of inconvenience and delay was caused to people crossing the harbour. But thanks to the aid rendered by naval ratings and later by officers and engineers of the Mercantile Marine, we were able to maintain a curtailed service until the launch crews returned to work in August. To all those who assisted us in this difficult period, I wish to tender our hearty thanks.

There is a matter that I should like to take this opportunity to refer to, and that is, people boarding the ferries after the gangway has been lifted and the ferry is under weigh. It is a dangerous practice and contrary to our by-laws. There is a notice on each launch and on the wharf warning people against this but it is ignored. If this goes on it will be necessary for the Company to prosecute offenders in order to stop it.

Turning now to the accounts, you will observe an amount of $1,300 written off under the heading of "Bad and Doubtful Debts." This is a loss sustained owing to the Company's shroff, absconding on July 2nd with $3,300, of which only $2,000 has been recovered from his security. This man was jointly employed by the Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co., Ltd., and ourselves, and they also suffered a loss.

We have transferred $20,000 to

EXCITING INCIDENT NEAR MACAO.

CUSTOMS OFFICER TAKEN TO CANTON.

ABOARD WAR VESSEL.

Details of a sensational affair connected with an encounter between a Chinese Maritime Customs cruiser and a vessel under the control of the Canton Government are to hand to-day from a reliable source.

From the information obtained by a Telegraph representative this morning, it appears that the Chinese Customs cruiser, Lungshing, was on patrol outside Macao when it sighted a small Chinese war vessel. Mr. Weston, the Customs officer who was in charge of the Lungshing, boarded the other vessel, and, in the course of a search, found a quantity of arms and opium. Mr. Weston then signalled to the Customs launch for more men to be sent over to his assistance, but this move was foiled by the Chinese vessel, which drew up anchor and proceeded to steam away with Mr. Weston and his few men still on her.

The affair occurred on Monday, since when it has been learned that Mr. Weston and the other Customs men were taken to the vessel to Canton where they were later released.

MOTOR BUS OVERTURNS.

EUROPEAN LADY INJURED.

Mrs. H. A. Jones, wife of the manager of Messrs. S. Moutrie and Co., together with a number of Chinese passengers, was badly injured as the result of a motor bus overturning in Kowloon yesterday morning. She sustained severe bruises to her shoulder and one leg, and had to be removed to the French Hospital. There is a fear that her leg may be fractured, but this will not be definitely known until the result of an X-ray examination is disclosed. Her many friends both in Hongkong and Kowloon hope that she will speedily recover from the effects of her injuries.

It appears that the bus, which is owned by the Kai Tak Motor Bus Company, was on the way from Kowloon City to the Star Ferry when, on approaching Kowloon Dock at about 11.30 a.m., it ran into a big drain and turned over. All the passengers were thrown out and most of them more or less injured, the most serious case being that of Mrs. Jones, who, in addition to sustaining the injuries mentioned, is naturally suffering considerably from shock.

The Accident Fund to bring this up to $100,000. Special Repairs Fund was drawn on during the year to the extent of $30,072.55, and $24,666.32 has been transferred to it making it now stand at $50,000. After effecting these transfers and taking into consideration the amount brought forward from last year, namely $11,415.08—that is, ignoring the amount subsequently transferred to Reserve in connection with the capitalization of that Account—there is available for appropriation a balance of $272,234.69. It is proposed to pay a dividend of $1.50 per share and a bonus of a like amount, absorbing $240,000, and carry forward $32,234.69. I hope that these appropriations will meet with the approval of shareholders, and would like to remind you that the number of shares on which dividend is now being paid was doubled in 1925 by the capitalization of Reserve Fund.

I do not think there is anything further that calls for comment and now beg to propose that the report and accounts as presented

AGAINST JAPAN.

THE LATEST CANTON BOYCOTT.

RULES APPROVED.

Canton is apparently in earnest on the question of a boycott of the Japanese, for news is to hand stating that the newly-formed Association formed to protest against the "invasion" of Manchuria has passed resolutions deciding to boycott Japanese goods and to sever economic relations with Japan.

At the meeting at which these decisions were reached, Mr. Tan Chik-tong was in the chair, and after the reading of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen's will, Mr. Chan Sun-ming proposed the following three schemes:

(1) To prepare lists of Japanese goods showing, name, quantity, cost price, place of storage, trade mark, date of clearance sale and having a column for remarks. Similar lists will also be made ready for Japanese goods, but in the remarks column it must be clearly stated whether such orders may be withdrawn. These lists are to be distributed to the managers of business houses who must fill in the manner aforesaid within ten days from date of receipt. At the same time, the four Merchants Unions will be requested to notify the merchants of the above Association's plan of disposing with Japanese goods in order to avoid misunderstandings.

(2) To organize a Japanese Goods Investigation Committee giving the members the following powers:

(a) To investigate into the genuineness of the various business houses' report.

(b) To draw up rules governing the punishment of making false reports and smuggling Japanese goods and plans for the disposal of the present stock of same. These rules must be first passed by the Association.

(c) To receive reports and after investigation, the Economic Severance Executive Section will send representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and that of the 4 Merchants Unions to effect a search.

Mr. Tan Chik-tong proposed that the Provincial Peasants Unions, All-China Labour Union, Soldiers Federation, Students Federation, Provincial Kuomintang, Education Union, City Merchants Union, Merchants Federation, Commercial Association and General Chamber of Commerce jointly organize the Japanese Goods Investigation Committee. This suggestion was unanimously passed.

be adopted and passed. When this has been seconded, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability any questions that shareholders may wish to ask.

Sir Paul Chater seconded, and the adoption of the report and accounts was unanimously approved.

BUSINESS MATTERS

The confirmation of Mr. Bernard and the Hon. Mr. Lang as directors was proposed by Mr. Bailey, seconded by Mr. Sturt and carried, while the re-election of the retiring director Sir Paul Chater was approved on the proposition of Mr. Harris seconded by Mr. Carroll.

Mr. C. Bernard Brown was re-elected auditor, the appointment being proposed by Mr. da Silva and seconded by Mr. Bagram. This was all the business of the meeting.

NEW CANTON LOTTERY LOAN.

TO ASSIST INDUSTRIAL SCHEMES.

BIG PRIZES OFFERED.

A report from Canton says the Government is issuing a Lottery Loan of $5,000,000, redeemable in three instalments, each at a period of ten months, and guaranteed by the revenues of the province, set aside as a retrenchment fund, and deposited in the Central Bank, which takes full responsibility for the payment of the principal without interest, as well as the lottery prizes. The following are the terms of the loan.

The Loan is to be called the Nationalist Government Treasury Lottery Loan, and it will be divided into 1,000,000 bonds of $5 each. The object of the loan is the improvement of the Mint, the Leather Factory and the Cement Works which have been in operation for years, and the promotion of other new industrial undertakings which the Government may deem necessary.

Regarding repayment, two per cent. of the principal is to be paid every month on the first instalment, three per cent. every month on the second instalment, and five per cent. every month on the third instalment, and at the end of the thirty calendar month, the entire principal will be repaid.

The interest on entire loan will total $50,000 per month, but this will be set apart for lottery prizes. The prizes of the lottery vary from $20,000 to $1, while fifty cents will be given to each of the unsuccessful participants at each drawing.

"SNEAK THIEF AND SPY."

STRIKER FROM CANTON SENTENCED.

Characterising him as a sneak-thief and a dangerous spy, Major Willson sent a Chinese to prison for two months, at the Central Police Court this morning, for the larceny of an overcoat valued $5.

During the hearing of the case it was stated by Sgt. Meadows that the defendant arrived in the Colony only the day before yesterday from Canton, and was apparently a member of the Shoemakers' Union, and a striker there. In his possession were found various tickets to enable him to get food and lodgings at Canton.

The owner of the overcoat said he heard someone pass his door at 13, D'Aguiar Street, and on going to look for his overcoat found it gone. He ran out of the building, and saw the defendant with the coat in Stanley Street. He caught the man in Pottinger Street, where he was arrested.

The defendant said he had come from the country, and entered the house to see someone. After he had left the witness approached him with the coat on his arm. He denied that he stole it.

SENT HOME.

PASSAGE FOR EUROPEAN VAGRANT.

A European named David Boyd, appeared before Major Willson at the Central Magistracy this morning, and learned that a passage home had been arranged for him.

A short time ago he came up at the Police Court on a summons of being absent from the House of Detention, where he had been sent, and in consequence he was sent to prison for one month.

This morning, Major Willson said he was going to remit part of the sentence, as arrangements had been completed for his passage home. His sentence would be reduced to eight days, to enable him to catch the boat.

ITALIAN DEBT.

AGREEMENT SIGNED IN LONDON.

TERMS EXPLAINED.

London, Jan. 27.

The Italian debt agreement provides for the payment in the first year of £2,000,000; during the next two years, £4,000,000 annually; during the next four years, £4,500,000 annually; and thereafter until 1936-7 £4,500,000 annually, with a final payment of £2,250,000 during 1937-8.—Reuter.

SUMMARY OF AGREEMENT.

Later.

The debt agreement was concluded in an atmosphere of great cordiality. The Italian debt to Britain totalled £611,000,000, against which Count Volpi claimed a refund of £22,000,000 for gold deposited in London during war time. Mr. Churchill, in a speech at the ceremony of signing, declared that the Cabinet had allowed him a wide latitude in order to give consideration to Anglo-Italian friendship. It is noteworthy that the agreement is in no-wise mixed up with reparations. A clause in the agreement protects the Italian currency in the event of abnormal depreciation due to payment of debts abroad, while in the event of Britain receiving more from reparations and Allied debts than she paid to America, Italy's share of such surplus will be credited against future payments.

Mr. Churchill interviewed, however, said that Britain at present had paid £100,000,000 and had received £25,000,000 from reparations and nothing from war debts.—Reuter.

ITALY PLEADED.

Rome, Jan. 27.

The entire press eulogises the agreement.—Reuter.

FULL DETAILS.

Rugby, Jan. 27.

The Anglo-Italian Debt Agreement was signed this morning at the Treasury by Mr. Winston Churchill, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Count Volpi, the Italian Minister of Finance. The agreement provides that Italy shall pay £2,000,000 in the current financial year 1926-27, and £4,250,000 in the succeeding years until 1936-37. Payments will be made in sterling half-yearly, the first payment taking place on March 15th next. Italy will issue and deliver to the British Treasury by February 20th bonds in respect of each of the payments provided for, which are to be free of all Italian taxes.

Italy has the option of postponing such part of any half-yearly instalments falling due on or after 15th September, 1928, as exceeds the sum of £1,000,000 for not more than two years, but only on condition that the instalments falling due in the second succeeding year cannot be postponed until the instalments due for two years and for one year previous shall have been paid in full. The postponed payments shall bear interest at five per cent. per annum.

IMPORTANT CLAUSE.

An important clause of the agreement provides that if at any time it appears that the aggregate payments effectively received by Great Britain under the Allied Debt Funding Agreements and on account of reparations or of liberation demands, exceed the aggregate payments effectively made by Great Britain to the Government of the United States of America in respect of war debts, an account shall be drawn up by the British Treasury, interest at five per cent. being allowed on both sides of the account. If that account shows that receipts exceed payments, Great Britain will credit Italy, against the payments next due by Italy, with such proportion of that excess as the payments effectively made by Italy bear to the aggregate sums effectively received by Great Britain.—Continued on Page 2

GERMAN DISARMAMENT.

ANGLO-FRENCH CONPRINCE.

Rugby, Jan. 27. The initiative in raising matters for discussion between the French Prime Minister and Sir Austen Chamberlain will rest primarily with M. Briand, and it is generally believed that a suggestion for the postponement of the preparatory Disarmament Commission will be one of the subjects dealt with in the coming conversations.

Other points which it is anticipated will be raised include the present position regarding the state of Germany's disarmament, and the position of the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, and the reduction of the present Allied military strength in the Coblenz and Mayence zones.—British Wireless.

Germany Illogical.

Paris, Jan. 27.

The papers are most interested in the conference M. Briand is due to have to-morrow with Sir Austen Chamberlain. It is understood they will discuss principally whether Germany may be considered as having fulfilled her disarmament obligations, and be admitted to the League of Nations before the Inter-Allied Committee of Military Control has completed its work.

Le Journal thinks the framers of the Locarno pact are facing rather a tender situation, for whereas the Allies have been very generous to Germany, the Reich shows militarist and nationalist tendencies.

L'Ouvrier considers Germany's behaviour illogical, as she claims concessions before having complied with the disarmament conditions. The Allies' willingness cannot be doubted, but the Reich must manifest the same. Moreover, the Locarno treaty does not cancel the Versailles agreement.—Havas.

British Troops Depart.

Rugby, Jan. 27.

The evacuation of the British troops from the Cologne zone is now practically complete, and the British flag over the headquarters in that city will be hauled down on Saturday.

At present only one battalion remains, and it is due to leave on Friday, but fatigue parties will remain until the following day. The hauling down of the flag, after seven years' occupation, will be accompanied by a simple ceremony, after which the remaining troops will entrain for Wiesbaden, and the British section of the first zone of occupation will thus be evacuated.—British Wireless.

EVENTS AT HARBIN.

RUSSIA'S LIST FOR DISCUSSION.

Suppression of Trade Unions.

Peking, Jan. 27. Soviet telegrams from Harbin complain that despite Marshal Chang Tso-lin's orders, the Chinese military authorities continue to suppress the Soviet trade-unions at Harbin. The premises of all the unions have been closed and the officials arrested.—Reuter.

Moscow, Jan. 27. The Tass agency is authoritatively informed that the questions of resumption of activities by trade-unions connected with the Chinese Eastern Railway, compensation for losses caused by the Manchurian authorities during the dispute, and the responsibility for the outrages, will be the subject of further discussions by the two parties concerned.—Reuter.

THE WORLD COURT.

QUESTION OF AMERICA'S ADHERENCE.

Washington, Jan. 27.

In the Senate, Mr. Reed was unsuccessful in his effort to add a provision that "the Monroe doctrine be classed as a principle of international law binding the World Court."

It is understood a multitude of other reservations are likely to be proposed by individual senators in the next day or two, but it is not anticipated that any of them will be approved.—Reuter's American Service.

Opportunity to Withdraw.

Later.

In the Senate, other reservations which were approved overwhelmingly, provided for the withdrawal of the United States from the World Court at any time the statutes of the Court could not be amended without the consent of the United States. "Advisory opinions" must be rendered publicly, and no such opinion affecting the United States could be rendered unless the United States consented.

The United States' signature could not be affixed to a protocol of the Court until other nations, members of the Court, accepted the American reservations; and recourse to the Court for settlement of differences between the United States and any other State could be had only by agreement beforehand by general or special treaty between the parties to the dispute.

The Senate also approved a statement that adherence to the Court should not be construed as requiring the United States to depart from the traditional policy of opposition to entangling alliances, or its traditional attitude towards purely American questions.—Reuter's American Service.

TELEVISION PROGRAMME TO BE BROADCAST.

Glasgow Invention.

London, Jan. 27.

"Looking in," in the new verbal epigram, denotes the receiver television programme which begins to be broadcast from a small London station next week, under license granted by the Postmaster General to a new company to exploit the patent of a Glasgow inventor, Mr. John Baird, of a special receiving apparatus adaptable to any valve set. Demonstrations have been successfully conducted, though experiment is necessary to give sharper definition to the figures.—Reuter.

WAR DEBTS.

London, Jan. 27.

The Anglo-Italian debt agreement was signed at the Treasury this morning.

The first payment will occur on March 15.—Reuter.

Rugby, Jan. 27.

In celebration of the signature this morning of the agreement for funding the Italian war debt to Britain, of £560,000,000, a banquet to Count Volpi and Mr. Winston Churchill has been arranged for to-night, when the Goldsmiths Company will be the hosts.—British Wireless.

BRITISH HEAVYWEIGHT.

PHIL SCOTT BEATS
GEORGE COOK.

Edinburgh, Jan. 27.

Boxing in a twenty rounds contest for the British Empire heavy-weight Championship, which was witnessed by nearly 20,000 people, Phil Scott beat the Australian Champion, George Cook, who was disqualified in the eighteenth round for holding.

It was a poor fight, mostly clinching. Cook who was repeatedly warned for holding, floored Scott in the fourth round for a count of eight. After this Scott improved and landed stiff rights to the head and face and lefts to the ribs. There was no surprise when the referee intervened in the eighteenth round, disqualifying Cook for holding.

HOUSING IN SCOTLAND.

PREMIER EXPLAINS PROGRAMME.

Rugby, Jan. 27.
In his speech at Stirling last night, the Prime Minister emphasised the urgency of the housing problem in Scotland, where arrears were not being overtaken but were being increased. He felt the time had come to meet a grave emergency.

He believed that by alternative methods they could provide rapidly, and at reasonable prices, suitable housing which would save the people until ordinary methods of building could catch up with the necessities of the situation. They had arranged, as a Government, to build through the agency of the Scottish National Housing Company two thousand steel houses. All preliminary agreements had been made. Sites had been selected and constructional work would shortly begin.

The allied question of dealing with congested areas in great towns was engaging the attention of the Government. They realized the difficulties, and would attempt to surmount them; for decent housing was the foundation both of decent life and social peace.—British Wireless.

INDIAN EXILES.

A SWARAJIST PLEA FOR LENIENCY.

Delhi, Jan. 27.
The Assembly by 53 to 45 votes has carried a Swarajist motion asking for the release of all political prisoners detained without trial, urging the trial under the ordinary law of persons against whom the Government had sufficient evidence to go to court, and the removal of difficulties in the way of Indian exiles returning to India.

Sir Alexander Muddiman, the home member, claimed that the Bengal Ordinance had succeeded, for not a single outrage had occurred after the Government acted under it. The Government could not indulge in the luxury of a general amnesty, but if deserving cases were brought to his notice, he would consider them favourably.

The Government would not oppose Indian exiles returning to India, but would not guarantee that all of them would not be prosecuted.—Reuter.

POSSESSION OF ARMS.

CHINESE SENTENCED TO THREE YEARS.

Sitting together with Major Wilson, Mr. E. W. Hamilton heard a charge of unlawful possession of one revolver and five rounds of ammunition preferred against a Chinese at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

Sentence of three years' hard labour was imposed.

Inspector Pincott told the court that on January 20, at about 10 p.m., a Chinese detective arrested the defendant in Wooning Street, on information received. When searched the arms and ammunition were discovered concealed in the defendant's girdle. In a statement to the Police, the accused admitted possession of the weapon, and said that it was given to him by a friend who had come from the country with the intention of assassinating the Chinese general, Lo Ching. Not being able to find the man, his friend gave him the revolver to dispose of.

Sentence of three years' hard labour was imposed.

CANTON'S ILLOGICAL REPLY.

The communique which has been issued by the Canton Commissioner of Foreign Affairs in reply to the statement of the Hongkong Government relative to the breakdown in the negotiations for a settlement of the "strike" reveals a truly remarkable viewpoint, based on entirely wrong premises.

Let us quote the Canton Government's own words: "It should be remembered that the strike was instigated by Hongkong workers, not for economic reasons, but as a protest against the British Government, primarily for the shooting which took place in Shanghai on May 30th. last, and subsequently for the shooting which took place in Canton on June 23. The strike was therefore a political one in which the principals were the Hongkong Government and the workers."

The italics are ours, because we would like to know how anybody, by the process of logical thinking, could make the Hongkong Government principals to a dispute which arose (as Canton says) out of incidents with which it had not the slightest connection either before, during, or after their happening. Surely, the author of the Canton Government's statement must have known the absurdity of his contention, and therefore, the invalidity of the subsequent argument based upon it.

When the Canton Government, in explaining why it could not appoint any "plenipotentiaries" to negotiate with the Hongkong Government, because the Canton Government could only be a mediator and not a principal, it deliberately shut its eyes to the fact that the Hongkong Government can itself only be a mediator and was never a party, either as regards the political or economic aspect of the dispute. If there is any sincerity in the Canton Government's plea that it is animated by a desire to see an early settlement, it is very hard to understand why it rejected the Hongkong Government's overtures for an official settlement, because it is idle for the Canton Government to pretend that it could not, if it so desired, influence the organisers and directors of the "strike" movement. So long as the people in Canton think that the Hongkong Government can settle this dispute, either politically or economically, they are entirely wrong.

The political terms, if there are any, are between Britain and China as nations, and not between Canton and Hongkong. Conferences either in progress or pending are rightly examining all such matters.

The economic terms are wholly outside the power of the Hongkong Government, except so far as its own employees are concerned. Thousands of workmen walk out and leave their jobs without making one single demand against the employers. Admittedly, they say it was a political gesture—a patriotic demonstration. Meanwhile, business houses, residences, and essential services in Hongkong had been left to struggle on as best they could, disorganised, while "strikers" joyfully demonstrated in Canton. A boycott of British goods followed. For months we have been "carrying on" with either depleted or untrained staffs, and there now comes a demand that the men who went out on strike should either be paid strike pay and reinstated or that they should be compensated. It is time that the Canton Government, and the Strike Committees and all else concerned realised, that so far as the economic side of the dispute is concerned, individual firms and employers must be left free to deal with individual strikers as they see fit. The nature of that dealing will be as generous as is characteristic of the traditional British sense of benevolent justice.

Unconcerned as it must remain as a principal, the Hongkong Government is rightly anxious to do all in its power to end a regrettable state of affairs which has already lasted far too long with unhappy results both to the Chinese and foreign communities. The Canton Government knows full well all that has happened—all the overtures and suggestions. Yet, in its latest statement, it has adopted an attitude wholly at variance with its profession of keen concern and contributed nothing useful to the work of reconciliation.

More Breathing Space.

Reading in a Shanghai paper that the Municipal Council has been giving serious consideration to the question of reducing the number of insanitary and unhealthy native dwellings, we are reminded of the fact that Hongkong, itself, has a problem in this regard. True it is, that all dwelling houses here have to conform to a certain standard set by the Sanitary Department and that Hongkong is much better off than Shanghai in the matter of the housing of its Chinese population, but sight must not be lost of the fact that the cessation of the Colony's big building boom means that the work of improving the housing conditions will be slowed down. The opening up of big new districts such as Shamshuipo and Kowloon City meant that an outlet was being provided for the working-class Chinese congested in the western and eastern districts of the City of Victoria, and one can only regret that the tightening of the money market and the uncertain prospects of the future have resulted in a great falling off of what was a very healthy development. But the Government and especially the Departments responsible for the public health should not lose sight of the fact that it is very essential to the well-being of this Colony that there should be expansion in the outlying districts, and every encouragement should be given to those disposed to embark on development enterprises. When one remembers that pulmonary diseases exact such heavy toll among the Chinese of Hongkong and that these diseases arise mainly because of overcrowded living conditions, the need for expansion is very clearly brought home. Apart altogether from the fact of real growth (more people and more industrial enterprises) there is every need for us to develop elbow room and breathing space, because the thousands of this Colony have for too long been huddled up in the narrow strip of

ALL HEALTHY THINGS ARE SWEET TEMPERED.—Emerson.

The weather forecast for tomorrow is:—N.E. winds, fresh; fine to cloudy.

Mr. M. Manuk and Miss Manuk returned to the Colony to-day by the Suwa Maru after a three months' holiday in India.

A chimney fire in Jubilee Street last night was put out by the inmates and firemen before the outbreak made any headway.

It is Thanksgiving Sunday at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, on the 31st instant, and at 6 p.m. there will be a special dedication service.

Mr. E. A. Gilmore, Vice-Governor of the Philippine Islands, is passing through Hongkong on the President Madison. He is on an unofficial trip to the United States.

Regarding the recent arrest of four Kuomintang delegates by the Tapan of Kiangsi, the latter has now telegraphed to the Canton Government stating that they have been released.

The Hongkong Hotel Company announced that on the first of February the grill room will be re-opened on the roof garden, and special attention will be given to a la carte service and dinner parties.

At four o'clock this morning robbers, armed with a revolver and three daggers, entered a floor at No. 104, Talmam Street, Shamshuipo. They searched the place and later left with money and property, to a total value of $470.

Mr. Nicholas Roosevelt, a cousin of the late President Roosevelt, who is one of the editors of the New York Times, is a passenger on the President Madison, which arrived from Manila yesterday. He is in the Orient on a "writing trip."

On the evening of the 25th instant, a serious fire broke out at Nam Kwan (South Gate) of Canton. The wind at the time was blowing very fresh from the north-east and the fire raged so fiercely that up to ten o'clock over a hundred houses had been destroyed.

There were nearly 400 guests present at the annual dance of the wardroom officers of H. M. S. Tamar, held on board last night, and a most enjoyable time was spent. Amongst those who accepted invitations were Lady Clementi, Vice Admiral Sir E. Alexander-Sinclair, Major General C. C. Luard, H. R. H. Prince George, Commodore, Mrs. and Miss Stirling, and the Bishop of Victoria and Mrs. Duppy. Music was supplied by the Brunswick Orchestra and the Tamar's orchestra.

ASSAULTING POLICE.

MOTHER AND SON
SENTENCED.

When a Chinese constable attempted to arrest a woman for hawking vegetables in Jubilee Street yesterday, her son interfered, and, at the Central Police Court this morning, before Major Willson, he was charged with assaulting the policeman, while in the execution of his duty.

The constable said that when he arrested the woman, she refused to go with him, and her son came up, picked up the vegetables, and threw them away. He then shouted to witness "Are you going to release her or not?" and witness refused to do so. The defendant then said if he could take her to the police station he would be a hero, and when witness attempted to take the woman he caught hold of his (witness's) arm.

Another constable said he arrived on the scene just in time to prevent the defendant from striking the previous witness.

The defendant said he was wild when the constable tried to arrest his mother, and he simply remonstrated.

Remarking that it was a very serious offence, Major Willson sent the son to prison for two months with hard labour. His mother was fined $5 for hawking.

hilly territory which lies between the hills of Victoria and the harbour. Cheap land, cheap transportation, and adequate public services can be the Government's contribution towards this very desirable end.

STRIKE ISSUES.

CANTON GOVERNMENT
STATEMENT.

Last week the Hongkong Government issued a statement of its efforts to reach a settlement with Canton. The following communique has now been issued by the Canton Commissioner of Foreign Affairs in reply to that of the Hongkong Colonial Secretary:

"The Government at Canton had, from the time that the Hongkong Government showed a desire to commence negotiations with a view to a settlement of the strike, done everything possible to facilitate them. At the same time, it should be remembered that the strike was instigated by Hongkong workers, not for economic reasons, but as a protest against the British Government, primarily for the shooting which took place in Shanghai on May 30th last, and subsequently for the shooting which took place in Canton on June 23. The strike was therefore a political one in which the principals were the Hongkong Government and the workers; when later a boycott was instigated, Canton merchants and workers joined in as principals on the side of the Hongkong workers. The Government at Canton, though deeply interested in the issue, was not a party to the strike or boycott. Hence any formal negotiations taking place ought to be between the principals on the two sides and the Government could have no locus standi in them. The absurdity of the Government appointing plenipotentiaries to negotiate on a matter outside its powers need only be pointed out to be appreciated. Obviously the only capacity in which it could participate, if it participated at all, was that of a mediator, and this was pointed out to the Hongkong Government. But the Hongkong Government was unwilling to negotiate directly with the strikers and merchants and desired to deal with the Government. This explains the failure of the first proposal to appoint four Hongkong merchants and of the second, proposal to appoint officials. The Hongkong Government's reluctance to deal with the strikers is, so much the more difficult to understand, having in view the frequency with which the British Government negotiates directly and effects settlements with strikers in Britain."

"Although the Government could not take part except as mediator in any formal negotiations, in fact it did much to assist in bringing about an early settlement. When the Governor of Hongkong expressed a desire that a member of the Government should visit him in order to have a preliminary and informal exchange of views, one of its most important officials was sent at once for that purpose. When the Hongkong official, who later came to Canton, separated the strikers' terms into two classes, political and economic, and expressed reluctance to negotiate with the strikers on the political terms, the Government agreed to find a formula for their negotiation if the economic terms were accepted in principle. Incidentally it may be mentioned that in the absence of such acceptance the mission of the eight Chinese merchants empowered to negotiate only on the economic terms was foredoomed to failure, aside from the added reason that the strikers could not see how they could negotiate with representatives of Hongkong Chinese merchants against whom they had had no grievance and declared no strike. As a further instance of the efforts made by the Government to facilitate settlement, when the Hongkong Government pointed out the difficulty of reinstating some of the strikers, reinstatement and strike pay being the so-called economic terms, it agreed to advise the strikers to accept compensation instead, in those cases where reinstatement was actually impossible. Furthermore, it promised, when the Hongkong Government would agree in principle to the two economic terms, to use all its influence with the strikers to bring about an early settlement.

"These facts show that the Government has gone very far in using its good offices to facilitate matters between Hongkong and the strikers."

"The Government is still animated by the same sincere desire to see an early settlement and is ready to continue its efforts to assist the two sides."

MORRIS'S SENTENCE.

WILL IT BE INCREASED ON APPEAL?

The legal correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, writing under date of December 19th, states:

"It seems to be overlooked in some quarters, which should be better informed, that the Court of Criminal Appeal has power to increase the penalties inflicted at trial."

The suggestion, therefore, that the sentences in the Morris case may be "upset" on appeal can carry a meaning not fully appreciated by some critics. The result of such action may have consequences not contemplated, presumably, by the prisoner, and it is hard to believe that Morris's legal advisers would recommend such a dangerous expedient.

The general astonishment at the inadequacy of the sentences on the male prisoner should be mitigated by the realisation that two years' hard labour is the severest penalty, save the capital penalty, known to our law.

In rigour, hardship and exactness it far exceeds the pain of a similar term of penal servitude. It was for this reason that the Court of Criminal Appeal has laid down the limit of two years to a possible term of penal servitude. It was that the punishment is of the severest character our system of justice is intended to inflict.

But it is certainly a defect in the administration of criminal justice that this humane limitation should operate to contract the just punishment in such a case as that of Morris, where a series of offences covering a considerable period are proved on indictment.

Doubtless this consideration moved Mr. Justice Avey to order a further period of 12 months without hard labour, and a substantial contribution towards the costs of the Crown.

The further sentence is a departure, but well warranted, and it is incredible that the Court of Appeal will fail to endorse it.

OVERSEAS LEAGUE.

HONGKONG OFFICERS APPOINTED.

Mr. Eric Rice, Assistant Secretary to the Overseas League, is leaving the Colony to-day. His visit has been very successful and many new members have been enrolled. He has arranged for a Committee to continue the work of the League in the Colony and hopes that they will be able to do much to forward the objects which the League has in view.

Enquiries may be addressed to members of the Committee who will be glad to give any information desired.

Mr. G. R. Edwards has kindly consented to act as the Official Secretary for the Hongkong Branch of the League.

Following is a list of the officers of the League in Hongkong:—Mrs. H. W. Bird, representing ladies of Hongkong; Miss Elma Birkett, representing the younger community; Mr. E. Bullock, representing Government Service; Mr. B. R. Foster, representing H. E. the Governor; Mr. G. R. Edwards, representing commercial firms; Mr. S. J. Jordan, representing Kowloon; Mr. S. T. Williamson, representing shipping; Lieut. Colonel T. A. Robertson, representing Hongkong Club; Major J. Macready, D.S.O., representing the military; Mr. A. S. Abbott, representing stores; Mr. R. L. Moncrieff, representing banks.

THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

PROFITS FROM "TOLANTHE."

It is pleasing to hear that the Philharmonic Society's production resulted in a profit of approximately $700, the M.C.L. Hongkong Benevolent Society and the Missions to Seamen benefiting to the extent of $200 each.

The Society proposes to stage a concert in April for which an interesting vocal and orchestral programme has been arranged, and, judging from past performances, another musical treat is assured.

Mr. R. W. Fleming, a musician of experience, has accepted the conductor's baton, in place of Mr. Collett, who is leaving the Colony, and the first rehearsal takes place in the Cathedral Hall on Monday next at 5.15 p.m. for chorus and orchestra next at the City Hall at the same time for orchestra when it is hoped that all interested will attend.

HARBOUR THIEVES.

TWO MORE BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

Having apprehended and imprisoned two members of a gang of thieves, who for the last two years have been operating in the harbour, and caused a third to be banished from the Colony, the police arrested the remaining members of the party and two of them appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, one on charges of larceny of a quantity of rope and canvas from the s.s. Nam Sang and the s.s. Escudido. The other defendant was charged in respect of the theft from the former vessel only.

The master of a cargo boat was charged with receiving the stolen property, but was acquitted on the evidence being insufficient to prove guilty knowledge.

It was given in evidence that a party of police raided a cargo boat on the night of the 17th inst. and arrested the first defendant, who, on the approach of the police, jumped into the water, but later submitted to arrest.

The second defendant's arrest was later effected in a house at Shaokwan, where a third man, alleged to be a member of the gang, jumped from a window and was seriously injured.

The defendants admitted the charges and sentence of two months' hard labour was imposed on the first accused, while the second man, who had a previous conviction for larceny, was sent to prison for three months with hard labour.

EXPORTING MONEY.

THREE CASES IN COURT.

Mr. R. E. Lindsell investigated a charge of attempting to export the sum of $500 from the Colony at the Central Magistracy this morning. The man on whom the money was found, by a Chinese constable, said he was a Californian merchant and was at the time seeing a clansman off on the Macao steamer. He displayed marked anxiety lest this sum be taken from him, and was at considerable pains to convince his Worship that he really had forgotten he had taken this sum along with him.

The evidence of a number of police witnesses was taken, after which Mr. Lindsell said that there was a slight doubt, to the benefit of which the defendant would be entitled.

The case was accordingly dismissed.

Another passenger was fined $10 on a similar charge. He denied that he had money in his possession.

The constable who searched him said he took $10 from prisoner's breast pocket, and, making a more thorough search, took a further $30 from his shoes.

A fine of $25 was inflicted on a defendant, an old woman, who said that she was not aware of the regulations when she took $252 with her on going aboard the Macao steamer.

QUESTION OF RIGHTS.

"MORAL" OR LEGAL.

Just what the margin was between a "moral right" and a "legal right" in a claim for possession, was defined in a case before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistracy to-day.

On behalf of a client, who is a sub-contractor charged with making use of a number of planks belonging to the party with whom he had dealings under a contract, Mr. Leo d'Almada said that his client had a "legal right" to the planks, while Mr. C. A. S. Russ, for the other party in the case, only conceded that the claim was invested with a "moral right."

The Magistrate was informed that it had been decided to withdraw the case, both parties being of the opinion that there was no felonious intent. Mr. Russ submitted, however, that it was a "wrong claim of right."

The case was withdrawn.

IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS AT HANKOW.

Hankow, Jan. 26.
There is a complete stoppage of regular traffic on the Peking-Hankow railway. It is rumoured that the line is cut between Kioshan and Suiping. Meanwhile there are extensive troop movements from Hankow to Honan, troop trains leaving every hour this morning. Troops from other sections of Hupeh are concentrating here from Honan, and large number of troops have revolted against the Kuomintang, calling themselves the Tagadown or self-Governing Army, and are combining with Hupeh in a northern expedition.

Reuter.

TALKING TO
HONGKONG.HOME RADIO AMATEUR'S SUCCESS.

Another remarkable accomplishment in wireless telephony is to be credited to Mr. E. J. Simmonds, the well-known amateur experimenter of Gerrards Cross, says Electricity of December 25. He has succeeded in carrying out a two-way communication with Hongkong, and the achievement is the more interesting in view of the fact that it was intelligible speech.

Here is an abridged record extracted from Mr. Simmonds' log: Two-way between China and Great Britain. G.20 D (Mr. Simmonds' experimental station) on 45 metres at 18.00 G.M.T. The China station received intelligible speech and gave the strength of telegraphy as R.8. The China station operated on 35 metres, and strength of signals was R.6-7. Valves used for transmission and reception, Osrams, oscillator valve T. 250. The input at G.20 D, 100 watts.

Mr. Simmonds has many records in transmission and reception, and much of his success can be attributed to his original methods in the design and construction of his apparatus. A ten-metre receiver with a range of 8 to 70 metres used by him is reproduced herewith. Its simplicity is very clearly indicated, with glass supports to coils and H.F. choke, two valves, an Osram D. E. Q. and an Osram D.E. 5, and a couple of Ceeophone slow-motion low-loss condensers. Some of the results achieved by means of this receiver are astounding.

JAPAN'S LOSS.

DEATH OF PREMIER.

Tokyo, Jan. 28.
The death has occurred of Viscount Takaaki Kato, G.C.M.G., the Premier of Japan.—Reuter.
Viscount Kato, who was 65 years of age, has for many years past been one of Japan's most prominent politicians. After his education at the University of Tokyo, he was Private Secretary to the Minister for Foreign Affairs in 1888-90. Four years later, having meanwhile held other offices, he was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of St. James, which post he held for five years, being subsequently made Minister for Foreign Affairs. In 1908, Viscount Kato was appointed Ambassador in London and left in 1913 on being re-appointed Foreign Minister. He resigned but later rejoined the Government in the same office until his creation as a Viscount in 1916. To mark his many years service in London, he was given the G.C.M.G. decoration in 1915. It was in June, 1924, that he became Prime Minister.

The highest speed on record for an express train running in England was attained on May 9, 1904. The Great Western Railway a mail train from Plymouth to Bristol, touched a definitely registered velocity of 102.3 miles an hour.

"WHY ARE THESE VALVES BETTER?"

- 1.—Because they are one piece forgings made of a new kind of steel (the result of a new process perfected to combine silicon with chromium steel) designed and fashioned by experts. They will not burn, warp or break in temperatures that quickly ruin other valves.
- 2.—Because they will outwear ordinary valves—four to one, and the average valve has to be reground 3 times as often.
- 3.—Because this one piece, forged-steel, non-burning valve is the latest and best type of valve known.

While Sir Philip and Lady Richardson were opening a new playhouse at Walton-on-Thames, recently, their Weybridge residence, Aldenholme, was ablaze.

Informed of the fact by telephone, they hurried by motor-car to Weybridge, but when they arrived the fire had a firm hold, and it was apparent that little could be done to save the many treasures in the house.

While the upper stories were a mass of flames, and the roof on the verge of collapsing, Sir Philip led a band of willing helpers in an effort to save some of the furniture in the lower rooms.

Repeated journeys into the burning house resulted in the saving of only a small quantity of furniture and some of the photographs of Sir Philip's recent tour through East Africa and the Sudan.

Trophies Destroyed.

The whole of the furniture in the upper rooms, including many valuable pictures and trophies gained by Sir Philip when captaining English rifle teams in competitions in different parts of the world, were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at many thousands of pounds. The house was reduced to a mere shell.

Sir Philip, who is M.P. for Chertsey, returned from his 17,000 miles journey through East Africa recently. He is the Walsend-on-Tyne shipbuilder and owner, and a director of Messrs. Swan, Hunter and Wigham-Richardson.

Lady Richardson was the first M.P.'s wife to complete a course at the Philip Stott College, Northampton, the training centre for Conservative workers. She has helped her husband to win four elections.

GERMANY'S CRISIS.

ATTEMPT TO FIND A WAY OUT.

In view of the enormous adverse balance of Germany's trade and the continually increasing number of business failures, the Federation of German Industries (Reichsverband der Deutschen Industrie) has issued a pamphlet in which the causes of the crisis are investigated and ways and means sought for an improvement of conditions. The main demand of industry is for greater economy in Federal, State, and Municipal expenditure; the demand is made for a 20 per cent. reduction. In this connection it is of interest to note that the German national income amounted before the war to 42-43 milliards of marks, and is now estimated at 43-44 milliards. Pre-war taxation amounted to 142 per cent; the present-day percentage is 25 to 30. Ten per cent of the total national income now goes in pay and pensions of civil servants. It must also be remembered that the Dawes payments will only reach their proposed maximum in years to come.

The industrialists demand a reform of the railway tariffs by a permanent Tariff Commission, pointing out that in some cases the rates are as much as 300 per cent above pre-war. Demands are also made for a reduction of the burden of interest and for the restoration of mortgage advances for the agriculturists, whose financial difficulties are in large measure responsible for the existing economic crisis. Many cases are occurring of agricultural properties being compulsorily put up to auction, when, in consequence of the general tightness of money, no more than one-third to one-fourth of the pre-war prices is secured. With the Reichsbank discount rate at 9 per cent., the interest burdens which have normally to be paid by industry are double pre-war.

The industrialists admit that, just as in other countries there has been in Germany an excessive development of the apparatus of industrial production, and that reorganisation is in consequence inevitable. But the failures have not been confined to the firms with nothing behind them, founded during and since the war, but include also a large number of firms, which may justly claim the right to exist. In order to prevent the process of reorganisation from being controlled by more chance, the industrialists urgently recommend cartel and trust formation in many branches. The Potash Syndicate may be adduced as a model: its deliberately-thought-out closing down of works resulted in the restoration of the prosperity of potash mining with unexampled rapidity. The syndicate is at present working only 90 of the most profitable of its 221 mining works. The great success of the foreign loans of the Potash Syndicate shows that the right course has been taken.

For the rest, the industrialists declare their intention of doing everything to rationalise methods of production, express their agreement with the existing protective system, advocate the continuance of industrial cartels, and oppose the eight-hour day and the adjustment of wages to the present rising prices.

This programme shows clearly the lines which the Government also is likely to follow in coming years. Many of the ideas in this carefully thought out programme are well worthy of attention, but, taken in all, it demands heavy sacrifices from ever other party—the revenue, the transport undertakings, and the workers,—and it makes very few promises of sacrifices on the part of the industrialists. Above all, the consideration of the effects of the policy followed in the past summer has been avoided. Buyers and finishers of industrial products in most branches contend that the industrialists set their prices much too high as regards the home market. The programme of the Reichsverband makes no reference to these contentions. The increased duties introduced last summer enabled the German industrialists as a rule to monopolise the home market. They then successfully resisted wage increases to meet the increased prices, on the ground that times were too difficult. This was logically indefensible, since the artificial maintenance of wages at a low level when prices rise automatically brings a great reduction in purchasing power in the home market. The policy would only be rational if the cheaply produced goods could be thrown in large quantities on the external markets. But this is not to be done through a Protectionist tariff; that has the opposite effect—the high German duties invited foreign countries to raise, not lower, their tariff walls against Germany. In point of fact, the German industry has had since the summer to battle with increased export difficulties; in recent months there has been some improvement, but mainly, at the cost of substantial price concessions forced from the manufacturers by their struggle for existence and by an unprecedented tightness of money. But the less the profit on foreign business the stronger is the insistence on high prices at home, which then result in reduced instead of increased sales.

The German industrialists are too short-sighted to face these problems—problems which call for courageous and energetic attack. To any impartial observer the most effective means of hastening the return to normal healthy conditions seems to be a reduction of the tariff walls; the other method, the increase of the level of wages, would be the beginning of fresh inflation, and after the experience of the past, no one will hear of this, not even the German industrialists, who imagined a few years ago that they could draw large profits from inflation, though, of course, they did not say so in public. The lesson of inflation has been learnt in Germany, and this is the best conceivable guarantee that there will be no fresh inflation. Everyone, high and low, has learnt to reckon in gold values.

It must, after all, be concluded that the programme of the Reichsverband der Deutschen Industrie offers in itself no indication of the way out of all the existing difficulties. Yet everyone in Germany agrees that it is quite impossible at present to foresee how the crisis will develop or how long it will endure.

CHANGES IN MAN.

SLOW DISAPPEARANCE OF TEETH.

The spine of the child at birth has only a single curve, like the adult chimpanzee, and does not develop the curves typical of man until it has learned to walk alone, was a statement made by Dr. John Beattie in the course of a lecture at University College on The Erect Attitude and the characters that have survived from a previous arboreal life.

Dr. Beattie pointed out that the kangaroos among the Marsupials were particularly interesting, for geological remains showed that in the past they ran about like fox-terriers, but in the course of time their fore-limbs were shortened.

In the monkey group all were erect to a certain extent, but man had added the power of standing erect on straightened legs. The anthropoid ape, though he could not stand upright possessed erect structure, but he depended on the straight action of his fore-limbs.

Changes were occurring at the present day. The number of teeth in man was being decreased, and the third molar was bound soon to go, so that one was faced more and more with the possibility of a chinless aristocracy, for as the teeth disappeared or receded the chin would also recede.

It was sometimes said that the anatomist could not explain how man lost his tail. What actually happened to-day in life was that as the child grew the tail was brought in and assumed a new function. The muscles of the tail were used to carry the weight of the intestines, which otherwise had nothing to support them in that region of the front of the body.

PRICELESS JEWELS
IN TOMB.WOMAN WHO ONCE RULED
THE SAHARA.

Queen Tinhanan, ruler of the Agaggar people who once inhabited the mountainous region of the Sahara, has been discovered at Tamanrasset, in an immense tomb filled with jewels.

The discovery has been made by a Franco-American group headed by Count Byron de Prok, who is an honorary member of the Royal Geological Society.

The queen has a golden diadem, and round her neck are fifteen ropes of pearls and precious stones. On each of her arms are nine bracelets of gold and silver.

The royal mummy reposes in the midst of a collection of wonderfully carved objects in wood and toilet requisites in copper and glass work that might grace the boudoir of a modern society woman.

A heap of precious stones—agates, emeralds, rubies, and onyx—lies beside her, while beautifully carved bowls contain the food intended for her passage to the world beyond.

A beautiful figure of a black Venus was also found in the tomb. All these objects have been packed in forty-six cases and are to be handed over to the Government of Algeria.

The houses in the Cheshire district are being wrecked by salt mines. The salt dissolved from salt rock immediately under the foundations of the buildings. Many houses have been condemned and are unsafe to live in because the unstable foundation has made them lean dangerously.

THE NEW VICEROY.

LORD IRWIN HONOURED
BY HARROWGATE.

Lord Irwin, Viceroy-designate of India, recently received the freedom of Harrowgate "in recognition of patriotic, devoted and conspicuous services rendered by him to the Empire." As Mr. Wood, he was for 15 years Member of Parliament for the division of Ripon where Harrowgate is situated.

Referring briefly to the time before him in India, Lord Irwin said: "I know the difficulties of it. We all know the great change that is hovering and passing over the minds of men both here and there. I can only say that I should be less than human if I did not approach my task with some misgiving but I should also be less than human if in approaching it I was not encouraged by a constant knowledge of the kindness that has been so universally shown me. From these two things there springs a determination in the mind of your youngest freeman to seek to be not unworthy of your trust."

Sir Walter Raleigh, distinguished Oxford professor and eminent Shakespearean commentator, tells of a strange experience which befell him when he visited the United States. Because of a misunderstanding, the reception committee missed Sir Walter at the New York pier. The Britisher noticed a man looking around as if trying to find someone and said, "Are you looking for me? I'm Sir Walter Raleigh." The American looked at him a moment and said, "The hell you are! How are you? My name's Christopher Columbus."

THE INTERPORT TEAM SELECTED.

[BY WANDERER.]

After a most interesting trial game, won by the Whites by four goals to one, the Interport football team was yesterday selected as follows:

Rodger (Club); Wynne (Police) Capt.; Wheeler (Kowloon); Mitchell (Surreys); Stewart (Club); Bristowe (Surreys); Charlesworth (Surreys); Humberstone (Surreys); Gosano (Club de Recreo); Butler (Surreys); Mackleworth (Surreys). Reserves: Howard (Club), Sims (Kowloon) and Brittain (Police).

The team contains nine of the players suggested in these notes last evening, the changes being in goal and at centre-half. No-one is likely to quarrel with the selection of George Rodger as goalkeeper, even though they may hold the opinion that Clark's physical advantages, coupled with his undoubted ability, make him the better man. Clark went into hospital on Tuesday and was therefore unable to turn out yesterday. This may have had some influence on the decision. Whether it did or not makes not the slightest difference, for Rodger is a splendid keeper and he has been playing well enough for the past three seasons to warrant the distinction. About the centre-half there are most decided opinions, and, highly as I think of Jimmy Stewart, both as a player and a sportsman, I do consider that Sims, of Kowloon, on his club form, is the better player. He did not shine except in attack in the trial game yesterday, but the team was not selected on the day's play alone or Charlesworth, Bristowe and perhaps even Wynne might have found themselves ousted.

No doubt Jimmy will justify himself. He can rise to great heights at a critical juncture. His wholeheartedness is often a wonderful inspiration. He will play as hard in the last ten minutes as in the first. As vice-captain and centre-half much depends on him, and the responsibility can be left in his hands with perfect confidence. This does not affect my opinion of Sims.

The minds of a selection committee sometimes work in curious grooves, and leaving the team for the time being we discover a player is being sent up as a reserve who has not played in either of the trial matches. Brittain, I am referring to. A sound player, but a half-back. We have a reserve half-back in Sims. I hold no brief for anyone, but am surprised to see last year's captain left out of the fourteen. McKelvie can fill eight positions, from back to forward, at a pinch and perform creditably in any.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

Kowloon, league leaders and very possible champions, must be feeling distinctly encouraged, or is it amused, at having one player and one reserve picked to go to Shanghai.

Humpty: What's John Player so stuck up about? Dumpty:—Oh, he thinks himself distinguished because he wasn't mentioned in one of the 3,221 Interport teams.

Aside to K. M.:—We never have, but they would just laugh their heads off if we mentioned the feats to which you refer. You see they were performed in Kowloon. There are certain amenities to be observed, even in this case.

SOUTH CHINA GOING NORTH.

I am given to understand that the South China Athletic Association will be sending their first eleven to Shanghai at about the same time as the Interport team leaves. They will be competing in the China championships which are being played during the Chinese New Year.

LOCAL HOCKEY.

CLUB TEAM'S EASY WIN.

Some experimental changes were made of the Hongkong Hockey Club first eleven, when they met a side composed of naval men and other members of the Club, at the U.S.R.C. ground, Kowloon, last evening. When no goals had been scored at half-time, the Club team was rearranged, and that the change was undoubtedly beneficial is proved by the fact that in the second half they succeeded in scoring five goals, whilst their opponents were unable to secure a single point.

At the beginning of the game the only notable change was that Garrod, who usually plays out, was seen in the position of goalkeeper, and although he was not tried to any great extent, he gave promise of being able to handle that position with ability. Dand was brought in at right back in place of Farquharson, who has left for Shanghai, and the halves were as usual, Hett, Mitchell, and Martin. Price and Noronha played on the left wing, and Lyon, and Owen-Hughes on the right, while Woodward was centre forward. During the first half the team played none too well, and on resuming Woodward went right back; Hett centre half; Dand right half; and Mitchell centre-forward.

After this re-arrangement, the Club showed much improved form. Mitchell, in particular, distinguished himself. His considerable speed and dexterity supplied what the attack has been lacking for the last few weeks, and he scored three of the goals. Hett showed himself to be fully capable of discharging the duties of the centre-half, and Dand appeared to be quite comfortable. Woodward's play showed that he is quite as capable in defensive work as he is in the forward line.

Although equally as good as the Club team in the first half, the sailors were hard pressed for the major part of the second half, although the forward brought off several promising attacks, which were unsuccessful. The wings were not strong, and the forwards' play was not characterised by any particularly good combination. Stewart, a Club member, was one of their best men, and was always to be found where the play was fiercest. All the team played with a will, but they were no match for the Club in the second half.

Play fluctuated considerably at the beginning of the game, both sides visiting the opposing goal in turn, and several shots going wide. Owen-Hughes scored a goal which was disallowed, and after Garrod had been tested twice, Price put wide with a good shot at the other end. Woodward was pulled up for offside, with a clear shot at goal, and Becher and Martin managed to pull up a counter-attack. After Wedlake, who was playing for the sailors, had effected several good clearances, Becher broke up a dangerous attack. Woodward put out a side, and soon after he netted the ball, from a pass by Hett, but the point was again disallowed for an infringement.

With their team showing much better form, after the re-arrangement, the Club took up the offensive on resuming, and for the greater part of the half their opponents were busy defending. The forward line developed a surprisingly strong attack. For some time it was only occasionally that the sailors managed to relieve the pressure, and with the exception of a rally towards the end, Woodward and Becher did not experience a great deal of difficulty in keeping their goal clear of danger. From a pass by Hett, Lyon put the Club ahead, and Mitchell added another with a strong drive. The same player put on a third and fourth, and Noronha brought the total up to five. Towards the end the sailors improved, and were unfortunate with several shots.

TO-MORROW MATCH.

The following will represent the Hongkong Hockey Club 2nd XI, in a match against the 5/3 Punjabis, at Marina Ground, Kowloon, to-morrow at 5 p.m.: T. R. Rowell, C. L. R. Becher, J. Wedlake (Capt.), E. F. Stewart, L. P. Ralph, Rev. N. Evans, J. E. Noronha, S. H. Garrod, D. Lyon, Lieut. E. H. Jacobs-Larkoon and T. J. Price.

CRICKET.

"YOUNG SPRINTERS" OUT.

PLAYED BY "OLD CRIPPLES." A very interesting cricket match was played on the Hongkong Cricket Club ground yesterday between the "Young Sprinters" and the "Old Cripples" of H. M. S. Hawkins, the latter being victorious by over 50 runs.

NOT MERELY VANITY.

A woman's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood; eruptions mean impurities in the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions, and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected, not covered up.

When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, especially if, at the same time, she shows an inclination to tire easily, with a listlessness and inattention at her work, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the wretched state of health from which she is suffering. An analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply, but the physical signs are plain. Every girl should read the chapter on Chlorosis in the free book "Nature's Warnings," sent by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. to any reader who forwards name and address.

The good blood made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills helps to impart a brilliant clear complexion. Start taking them to-day. Get them any dealer, or send $1.50 for one bottle, or $3 for six bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kiangso Road, Shanghai.

According to the Chinese press,
the Whampoa Conservancy Board, with a view to improving Shanghai Harbour conditions, has proposed the following points:—1. That since the volume of business in Shanghai has increased to such an extent during the last decade and Shanghai has ascended to the world's third shipping port, there is every reason for the improvement of the harbour, and 2. That an increase in the rate of duty for all shipping companies should be enforced. These proposals will be brought up before the representatives of the Powers for consideration.

AUSTRALIAN CRICKET.

BIG SCORE BY NEW SOUTH WALES.

Sydney, Jan. 27.
New South Wales defeated Victoria, by an innings and 96 runs.
The scores were:

New South Wales, 703
Victoria, 290 and 322.

For New South Wales, Collins made 143, Kippax 271 not out, and Kellaway 68. For Victoria, Ponsford made 79 and 138, and Wood-full 126. In the bowling, Everett, for New South Wales, took four wickets for 67 runs, and five wickets for 91 runs.

It is unofficially reported that the South Australian, Arthur Richardson, and the Victorians, Woodfull and Ellis, will complete the tour to tour England, with Everett as sixteenth man if the number is extended.—Reuter.

WORLD COURT DEBATE.

OLD CONTROVERSIES REVIVED.

Washington, Jan. 27.

In the Senate discussion on the World Court, a drastic application of the clause failed to stem the current of the debate. As the hour approached to take the final vote, old controversies with regard to the League policies, President Wilson and many other issues were raised again, and once or twice the debate touched the question of religious tolerance and the Ku Klux Klan. A distinguished company of spectators listened to the debate in the packed galleries.—Reuter's American Service.

Paris, Jan. 27.

The Chamber has postponed the definite appointment of the perma-

TRAGEDIES OF THE SEA.FIGHT AGAINST MID-ATLANTIC GALE.

Halifax, Nova Scotia, Jan. 27.
A wireless from the German steamer Bremen reports that the British freighter Lariatian has broken up in mid-Atlantic with the loss of twenty-five members of the crew. This is the final chapter in the heroic efforts of the Bremen which stood by for twenty-four hours and rescued six of the Lariatian's crew, but mountainous seas frustrated further efforts.

A similar fight is in progress a few miles to the south, the American liner, President Roosevelt having hitherto lost two men and six boats in trying to rescue the crew of twenty-four of the British steamer Antinos. The rescuers have been forced to suspend operations pending the abatement of the gale.—Reuter.

GERMAN POLITICS.

GOVERNMENT'S PROGRAMME APPROVED.

Berlin, Jan. 27.

At the opening of the debate on the Government's programme in the Reichstag, the Centre leader, Herr Fehrenbach and the Socialist, Herr Mueller approved of the programme. Herr Mueller demanded that Germany should enter the League without delay and unconditionally. He agreed that with the other parties' view that promises made to Germany had not been fulfilled, but declared that opposition to their fulfilment did not come from statesmen but from military of the Entente, owing to the "sword rattling" of the Germany Nationalist press.

Count Westarp, the leader of the German Nationalists, bitterly criticised Herr Stresemann's policy and remarked that the impossibility of carrying out the Dawes Plans, was "now generally recognised."—Reuter.

Amid interruptions from the Right, Herr Luther refused to give information of negotiations between Germany and the Allies.
He said the Reichstag must support and not merely tolerate him.
He demanded a positive vote of confidence, which will be voted tomorrow and will probably be adopted by a small majority.—Reuter.

NEW TERRITORY
ROBBERY.

TWO VILLAGERS KIDNAPPED.

From an outlying station in the New Territories has come a report to the effect that armed robbers, who raided the village of Lung Ku Tan, escaped after kidnapping two of the villagers.

In the small hours of this morning, a widow living with her family in one of the houses in the village, was awakened by someone knocking at the door, demanding admittance. When the door was opened, two men rushed in and proceeded to hold up the inmates with arms. While a search was being made for valuables, three other members of the gang, who were left to keep a watch outside, went to a neighbouring house from which they kidnapped two boys, the son and nephew of the old woman. The gang was armed with rifles and revolvers and it is reported, made a haul amounting to $400.

They later left in a small boat, escaping in the direction of Lin-tin Island.

Britain under all the Allied War Debt Funding Agreements. Thereafter a similar account will be drawn up by the British Treasury each year and any further excess of receipts over payments shall each year give rise to a credit to Italy of her proportion of such excess. On the other hand, any deficit shall be made good by an increase in payments next due by Italy up to a similar proportion of such deficit within the limit of the total of the amount of credits, already allowed to Italy under this article.

Finally, the agreement stipulates that the £22,200,000 of gold belonging to Italy, which was deposited under the agreements of 1915 against the Italian Debt, will be retained by Great Britain as a non-interest-bearing deposit and will be released to Italy as to the sum of £1,000,000 in eight equal half-yearly instalments commencing on the 15th September, 1928, and terminating on the 15th March, 1932, and, as to the balance, in equal half-yearly instalments commencing on the 15th September, 1932, and terminating on the 15th September, 1937, provided always that all annuities due under the agreement have been integrally paid to date.

Before the signatures were appended to the agreement, short speeches were made by Mr.
Churchill and Count Volpi.

Mr. Churchill said that the British Government, in leaving him wide discretionary power in the negotiations, had desired him to take into consideration the whole course of Britain's happy relations with Italy in the immense tasks of the war and the period of reconstruction. Great Britain had always recognised that payment of the debt must take full account of the capacity of payment of the debtor. He was glad to have been able to carry through a definite settlement which, in the judgment of the British Government, was of a most generous character, having regard to Britain's own obligations.
He believed this settlement would cement the long and unbroken bonds of Anglo-Italian friendship.
He was sure it would conduce to the re-establishment of Italy's credit on a secure and stable basis, and that the concessions which Britain had made would be more than compensated by this further step in restoration of Europe.

TERMS EXPLAINED.

In an interview with the Press after the agreement had been signed, Mr. Churchill made a detailed explanation of its terms.
He pointed out that Italian sterling bills falling due at various dates and held by Britain, to the amount of £610,840,000, represented the value at the present time of £532,000,000.
When allowance was made for Britain's obligation to release £22,200,000 deposited by Italy against her war debt, Italy's total net war debt amounted to about £570,000,000. Having dealt with the method by which annuities for repayment will be made, Mr.
Churchill remarked that this meant that practically the British Treasury would receive £4,000,000 annually for 62 years. The Italian Government, he added, took sole responsibility for these payments, which were not dependent on the amount received by Italy from reparations.

In making passing reference to the clause in the agreement dealing with the Balfour note principle, Mr. Churchill remarked that up to the present Britain had paid the United States $100,000,000 and had received from reparations £25,000,000 and nothing from war debts. He proceeded to examine the settlement in relation to the pari passu principle and for this purpose he said comparison with the settlement made between Italy and the United States had become necessary. But there were many points of dispute about what would actually constitute pari passu, and, in the case of the American debt, there was no question of a gold deposit to be considered and other points of difference made simple actuarial calculations. Inappropriate. In this connection he mentioned relative importance that was to be attached to early payments against large later payments. On strict actuarial calculations, the British settlement was considerably less favourable, but it was more favourable, on the pari passu basis for the next 22 years, and much more so in the immediate future.

THE FIRST DAY'S DEBATE.

Paris, Jan. 27.
All the newspapers insist upon the absolute necessity of maintaining the financial debate exclusively on technical grounds and express satisfaction that the first day has proved that the Government is animated by an ardent desire at conciliation.

No party, writes the Ere Nouvelle, can come out humiliated from the controversy, in which the supreme arbiters will not be men but figures. The Echo de Paris says the first day was marked by a complete check to the Cartellist manoeuvres tending to suppress the debate. The Oeuvre hopes that the Chamber will proceed methodically and rapidly.
Le Matin emphasises an important phrase of M. Dumesnil expressing the hope that the Cartellist will not acquiesce to the tax on commercial transactions.—*Indo-

TRADE WITH CHINA.

SPEECH BY BRITISH PREMIER.

London, Jan. 27.
Alluding to the portents of trade improvement, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, speaking at Sunderland, said that since the imposition of the silk duties no fewer than fifty new silk companies had been registered in Britain. Many Continental firms had arranged to build factories in Britain, which, after America, is the largest producer of artificial silk in the world. He added that Canada had increased its spending power by a great harvest, and the same applied to Australia and India.

"I am told that trade shows a remarkable resiliency even in China, though we cannot hope for any development until more settled political conditions prevail." He was unable at present to say that he was doing his utmost, in conjunction with other parties to advance a settlement with China.
